PATHFINDER SCHOOL

Inside is an update from Pathfinder School regard things going on

Editors NoteBy Michelle Kemp

Hello and welcome to the second Edition of Northstowe News. Northstowe continues to grow with the first outdoor public space due to open in the spring on The Green.

The secondary school is under way and will eventually house a sports complex and theatre. Soon the play area by the school will be started which will encourage a wide range of outdoor sports for both young and older residents.

I am also hopeful the area set aside for the allotments and orchard will be released to the community this year.

As Northstowe grows so does opportunities to get involved. The sports committee continue to promote healthy living and encourage fitness instructors to set up groups in Northstowe – if they haven't set up a group for your favourite sport yet why don't you help them get one started?

The allotment committee needs some help to get off the ground so any budding gardeners are encouraged to get involved.

The social groups continue to plan a range of events designed to entertain and bring the community together. Neighbourhood watch is slowly growing in the aim of keeping our town safe and reducing crime. Northstowe News is also looking for writers please email us northstovenews@gmail.com.

Parish Council Update

From Richard Owen

Happy New Year, and to all those who have moved in over the past few months, welcome to Northstowe! The past two months have been very busy - it's been great to see so many community events going on at the Wing and around the Christmas Tree, including carol singing and an impromptu party to see in the New Year. Many thanks to all those who helped us get the tree up on the Green, and to those who recovered it after it blew over several times!

Northstowe continues to grow fast, now passing 300 houses occupied.

We are seeing good progress on the local centre square, which is due to be completed by April. Work has also started on some of the facilities for phase 2, with the secondary school due to open for year 7 entry this September and plans to build a large combined community centre, library and medical centre. One main focus over the past few months has been road safety; a campaign led by a local resident has led to improvements in safety on Station Road, and we have (jointly with Oakington Parish Council) obtained a mobile speed detector sign to be used on speeding hotspots across our villages. This is the first step in monitoring candidate locations for permanent speed cameras, and should eventually help reduce speeding traffic through Northstowe significantly. Finally, the Parish Council has a new website, which contains details of all meetings, the history of our area and a lot of useful links. It's at <http://www.longstanton-pc.gov.uk/> Don't hesitate to contact me if you have any concerns or questions about things happening here, or just say hello at an event at the Wing! My email address is cllr.owen@longstanton-pc.gov.uk.

Mothers Day

With Mothers Day fast approaching (at least it will have happened before the next issue is release)

There are infinite ways to express the love we have for our mothers. We are born of love and love is our mother and all that we hope for and much of what you are comes from your mother.

All of these sentiments are beautifully expressed by the children of Northstowe and Pathfinder School.

Each mother as unique as a mother should be from an equally unique young voice.

Happy Mother's day, Northstowe residents

PATHFINDER NEWS

WHAT WE HAVE BEEN UP TO

Christmas 2018

Whilst the decorations have been long packed away, we wanted to share some of our Christmas celebrations with you. Our youngest children stole the show with their performance of Baubles, our nativity.

Thank you to all those that donated to 'The Pathfinder Giving Tree'. We donated all the presents to the East Anglian Children's Hospice (EACH) in Milton.

We ended the term with a celebratory Christingle Service. Our Key Stage 2 children planned and delivered the service, alongside Reverend Beth. It was lovely to see so many families join us to bring a successful term to a close.

Upwards We Go

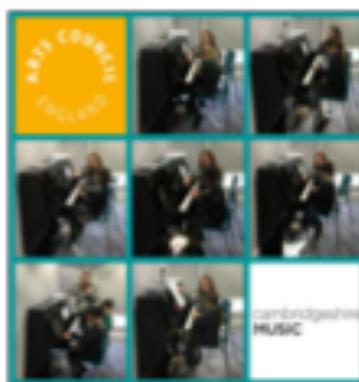

To think that we opened last year with only 7 staff and 11 children across the school to now be heading towards 20 staff and 100 children is amazing. Seeing the school grow and be a place of joy and celebration is a real privilege.

Over the coming months we will be preparing for our next stage of growth for September. If you are looking for a new and exciting challenge, please keep an eye on the recruitment section of our website for the following positions:

- Class Teachers
- Learning Support Assistants
- Administrator
- Cleaner

Music at Pathfinder

Over the coming months we are excited to start the journey of The Pathfinder School becoming an Artsmark School where the arts, culture and creativity are at the centre of our curriculum. This term our first individual instrumental lessons took place and Y2 and Y3 are taking part in an exciting pilot project called 'Trio' run by Cambridgeshire Music.

Community Quiz Night

QUIZ NIGHT

SATURDAY 30TH MARCH

We will be hosting a community quiz night to raise funds towards a public access defibrillator in Northstowe.

Spring Term

The spring term is a busy one here at The Pathfinder. We are looking forward to hosting our Mothering Sunday Lunch, where children can bring in a female relative to join them for lunch; this was a firm favourite last year. The school is also busy preparing its sport teams for a number of competitions as well as our first inter-house cross-country competition.

We look forward to training our Year 5 and 6 children to receive their Bikeability awards. This is a great opportunity for the children, particularly as they begin to think about their journeys to secondary school and keeping safe.

If you would like to come and hear more about what we have to offer, please contact us via one of the links below.

Update from Emmanuel Church

Emmanuel Church Northstowe has moved closer to Northstowe! Only 200 metres closer as we're still waiting for a Northstowe venue. But having our Sunday gathering in Swavesey Primary School gives us a larger hall and much better space for our creche and ever expanding children's groups. We'd love you to come and visit us in our new (temporary) home!

What happens at our Sunday service?

The band lead us in singing songs to worship God and there is usually a short, child-friendly talk and prayers. Then primary aged children go to their different Bible clubs, and under 3's have fun in creche.

Meanwhile the teens and adults learn about Jesus as we read the Bible, and then spend time thinking about what God is saying to us through the Bible.

Our service is usually finished around 11:50am and then it's time for coffee , cake and lots of chat. Whether you are someone used to going to church and looking for a new church family as you move into Northstowe, or someone who has never been to church and is interested in what we do, you are very welcome. You don't need to get in touch in advance, pay, bring anything or wear special clothes. Just turn up as you are, and try us out.

Update from Pathfinder Church

The connections that build community

One of most exciting things about being "pioneers" is getting involved in building 'community' not just 'housing'. Joseph Myers ('The Search to Belong') identified four different 'spaces' where people experience belonging.

- Sofa-sized Intimate Space (connecting as soul-mates)
- Table-sized Personal Space (sharing some private experiences, feelings, thoughts)
- Village-hall-sized Social Space (connecting through 'snapshots' of who we are; 'bumping into' while dog walking, school pickup, or at church or community events)
- Stadium-sized Public Space (finding a sense of identity in something big, even while remaining anonymous e.g. following sports teams).

He argues that ALL are needed. In larger spaces, it isn't about time spent or intimacy developed: little, random encounters in social and public spaces really matter!

Where might we build these spaces here: not just as physical spaces, but relational connections?

Similarly, a member of the Northumbria Community recently wrote:

"Community is built through the network of planned and unplanned encounters between individuals."

Why not give such a relational approach a try and see if it makes a difference to how you view encounters this week?

Let's lookout for more ways to build village-sized 'belonging' with those around us: perhaps just with a simple smile or nod as we pass on the street. Let's see what happens...

International Women's Day

International Women Day

By Stella Rustamova

International Women day is a big celebration in Russia. It became also a bank holiday some years ago.

Probably the main aim of this day is to treat any women you know whether it is your friend/colleague/girlfriend or wife with flowers and presents and make her to feel very special. International Women Day in Russia celebrated 2 days: 7th March for female colleagues and 8th March for your special woman/friend/mother.

7th March is usually a short day at work and in the end of the day everyone gets together and men set up a table with drinks and food. They also buy flowers and gifts for their female colleagues and wish them “Happy 8th March Day”.

On 8th March in the morning men traditionally go out in the morning to buy flowers for their women and present them together with a gift. Most men would book a place in the restaurant and invite their second half to treat her with a special meal.

There is always something magical in the air around International Women Day celebration: men are very gallant and try to do their best to make women happy and merry. Some men can walk on the streets and give flowers to women they just met just to make them smile.

Note from Editor- come celebrate International Women day at the Wing Wednesday March 13th – bring food to share with friends and neighbours

Neighbourhood Watch

The Neighbourhood watch's mission is to 'Bring neighbours together to create strong, friendly, active communities'. Here in Northstowe we want to promote this too to help keep our neighbourhood a safe, friendly place to live but we need your help!

Most Crime in Northstowe has been targeting the building sites but sadly some residents have been targeted too.

Well lit areas are less attractive to thieves – consider outdoor motion sensor lights and leave a light on when you're not home so the building looks occupied.

Lock it or lose it – the house, your car, the bike, the shed or back gate. Don't make it easy for thieves to access your belongings.

If you see any suspicious behaviour contact the local neighbourhood watch and phone 101 or 999 to report it to police. Try to take photos and upload them onto the police website as it all helps deter thieves and catch criminals.

For more details join the FB page Northstowe phase 1 neighbourhood watch or join via www.ourwatch.org.uk.

let's get social

Northstowe Social Committee

Northstowe is continuing to develop, but it's not only buildings which are springing up. Several months ago a Social Committee was set up in order to help people to get together, get to know each other and have a great time – making Northstowe our real home.

So far, so good, we had organised several events which went successfully:

- Saturday afternoon with bacon sandwich, hot delicious soup and drinks
- Christmas tree light up with hot chocolate and bring and share mince pies
- Christmas tree carol singing

We have a lot of ideas about future events for 2019. Keep an eye on the events column for more details as well as the Northstowe Pioneers Facebook page.

The Social committee is also working together with Social and Wellbeing Committee to set up a regular shared event every 2nd Wednesday of the month: building on the original idea of Wing Wednesdays. There will be something for everyone. Please come along and join us at these FREE family friendly events.

We are also looking for people who want to be more involved in planning and organising an event. We really can't run these without you. If you are keen to make a difference or just have an idea of something you'd like to see happen please contact us by emailing: northstowesocialcommittee@gmail.com

Archeology in Northstowe

Since 2014, the Cambridge Archaeological Unit (CAU), in conjunction with Gallagher's and Homes England have undertaken a series of large scale open area excavations across Northstowe Phases 1 and 2 and have uncovered extensive archaeological remains dating from the Middle Bronze Age through to the medieval period (a period of some 3000 years!).

Across Phase 1 we uncovered two Iron Age farmsteads, one of which evolved into an extensive Roman rural settlement with house plots, animal enclosures and wood-lined wells, some of which contained fragments of preserved leather shoes! An Early Saxon settlement then evolved around the edge of the old Roman one with at least 25 post-built structures scattered across the site of the Pathfinder Primary School. The settlement focus then appears to have shifted some time in the Middle Saxon period (700-800 AD) towards the site of modern day Longstanton, and close to the edge of this village we found a Middle Saxon post-built hall and numerous animal enclosures.

Within the Phase 2 works, across the former Oakington Airfield, we have excavated nearly 70 hectares of archaeology to date and have uncovered a vast area of settlement activity which ranges in date from the Middle Iron Age through to the Early Saxon Period. This includes a continuous Roman track-side settlement almost a kilometre in length, with evidence for specialised areas of metal working, pottery production, together with places where people lived, farmed and potentially worshipped. We also identified two Roman cemeteries. The number of individual artefacts recovered was understandably huge, ranging from whole pots, some of which were imported from across Europe, animal bones, many showing evidence for butchery, fragments of painted wall plaster and roof tiles, metal work and worked stone objects including a pagan Roman altar stone, probably manufactured in the Peterborough area. The recovered metal work included everyday objects such as coins, spoons, axes and nails, and more personal items such as brooches and rings.

We are only just beginning the process of interpreting and analysing this amazing site and look forward to giving you further updates when we understand more about how the Iron Age, Roman and Saxon settlements that used to exist across this landscape developed and evolved.

Northstowe Nature Notes

Hugh Venables

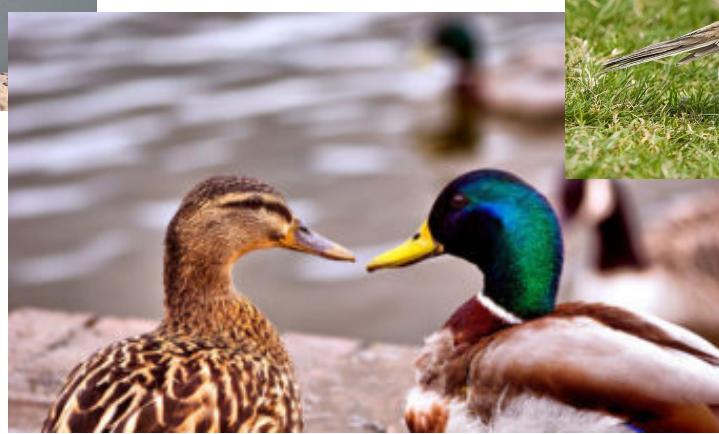

Within Northstowe, the new lake is attracting a good variety of ducks. Last spring, Skylark song dominated the site, though development will reduce the amount of quiet fallow land in phase 1, so we should enjoy these while we can.

Garden birds will spread gradually as we plant up our gardens. Along with the numerous Pied Wagtails, a bird that likes new build areas is the Black Redstart – a dark robin-like bird with a red tail. I have seen one, hopefully they will appear again – they bred in Cambourne but are otherwise scarce locally.

For several years I cycled the busway past what is becoming Northstowe, from Cambridge to the RSPB reserves Fen Drayton Lakes and Ouse Fen. Both are formed from gravel extraction, Fen Drayton being the more mature and accessible, with a busway stop in the middle, 5 miles from Northstowe. Car access is off Fen Drayton Road, from Swavesey.

Ouse Fen is still developing. It is better for key species (Bittern, Marsh Harrier and Bearded Tit) but less varied. It is maturing and expanding, with more wetland and access to come.

Both reserves have volunteer teams, with tasks on second and last Saturdays and each Wednesday, contact Hannah.Bernie@rspb.org.uk if

Friday walks - Kathy Males

Fancy a stroll and a chat? Meet a few neighbours and perhaps get a coffee? Get out of the house for an hour or two?

This group was started as a way to get out of our houses and get a little bit active as well as find out a little bit about our new surroundings and neighbours. Many people have moved from other villages – or further afield – and a short walk is a good way to start to foster a bit of community feeling.

To date we have mostly walked along the pathway towards Willingham and found ourselves at the Bushel Box Farm shop where we have a coffee and sometimes get a few provisions before making our way back. This is a tried and tested buggy friendly route with the bonus of coffee being available.

Occasionally we have taken slightly different options – through Longstanton one time, taking the bus into St Ives another time and have also taken a longer route via busway and waterpark back in Northstowe (definitely not buggy friendly at the moment – very muddy).

As our town (and the group) grow we hope to find alternative routes and of course this will also be improved as and when we have some sort of coffee/tea availability in Northstowe.

We usually meet at 10.15 am at the traffic lights nearest Longstanton. Any updates are posted on Facebook – The Northstowe Pioneers' group events tab.

Hope to see you soon.

Book Review – Luck in the shadows

Luck in the Shadows, the first book in the Nightrunner series by Lynn Flewelling, is the story of Alec, a young man arrested for a crime he didn't commit who is rescued by a mysterious stranger named Seregil. Seregil takes Alec on as his apprentice and they travel to his home city together, but on the way they encounter dangerous magic and even when Alec arrives there is a complex political situation waiting for him in a city on the verge of war, torn by factions and infighting.

This was an enjoyably complex book with good world building and entertaining characters. I especially enjoyed the many twists and turns of the political subplot and the descriptions of the dark magic that Alec and Seregil encounter were suspenseful and unsettling. I also liked the growing relationship between Alec and Seregil and the way Alec grows in skill and confidence throughout the book.

The world in which the Nightrunner series is set is also different from many similar fantasy books in that it is very diverse in terms of gender and sexuality; there are many powerful and influential female secondary characters, which came as a pleasant surprise!

I recommend it for fans of fantasy and swashbuckling action-adventure from the older end of young

Game of the Month

Takenoko is a fun strategy game in which players cultivate the Japanese emperor's garden, making sure that the ground is ready to grow bamboo of three coloured varieties in pleasing patterns – all the while a pesky Panda, a peace gift from the Chinese emperor, wanders around eating the results of your hard work!

Players take turns, choosing from a variety of possible actions, such as adding ground plots to the board, preparing irrigation channels to make sure the ground is supplied with water, or moving either the gardener or the panda. Where the gardener lands, bamboo grows; where the panda lands, he has a tasty snack! You score points by completing three different type of goals, such as growing bamboo stalks to just the right height, creating a specific pattern of plot tiles, or feeding the panda a particular diet. Once someone completes seven goals then the game is over but that doesn't always mean that they have won.

We like Takenoko because it's simple to learn, and takes less than an hour to play, yet nonetheless has interesting decisions for players to make. Granted, it's not our most deeply tactical game and luck is definitely involved – but success does require some forward planning. And of course it's always nice when the artwork and game pieces look as good as these.

Come along and play Takenoko, or choose from over 150 other games, on Tuesday evenings at 21 Heron Road – for details search FaceBook for "Northstowe Gamers" or email northstowe.gamers@thecolliers.uk

Sports committee update

On a balmy evening late in the summer of 2018, a team of keen Pioneers sat down with the aim of supporting, encouraging and improving the health, fitness and wellbeing of all residents in Northstowe. The first official meeting of the Northstowe Sport and Wellbeing Group took place and the Group was hungry to get started.

With no existing equipment, infrastructure or expertise, the Group needed to raise funds and so put forward a lengthy bid for a share of funding from a South Cambs District Council community pot. Shortly after Christmas the excellent news came that they had been successful in receiving over £500 of funds.

This pot of money will allow the Group to begin purchasing equipment and help fund a number of activities in Northstowe.

At a recent event held at Pathfinder Primary School, local residents were able to come along for 'taster sessions' of some of the forthcoming activities that are being/will be provided, including: zumba, yoga, badminton and a fitness class.

We encourage everyone to get involved and help us make the most of the fantastic opportunity we have to create a healthy, active and, above all, happy environment here in Northstowe.

Wing Wednesday

As some of you may already know Jon London has asked the community groups to take over the running of Wing Wednesday. A few of us met together on Friday to represent our groups/committees and to see how that would work. This is a really exciting opportunity for us to meet as a community once a month and really shape how this time is used.

The agreements were that wing Wednesday would continue the 2nd Wednesday of each month. The wing would be open from 3:30pm for children to access the library after school and for the adults to set up wing Wednesday which would start officially at 4pm. This early start is so those with children can attend and the first half of wing Wednesday would be geared towards families (although all are of course welcome). Later on the evening would become more geared towards adults and the evening would end at 10pm. We also have access to table tennis, pool table, table football and an x box as well as puzzles and board games. The idea is at each wing Wednesday there would be a games room for these to be out most months with other events happening in the other rooms. Each group would have turns overseeing and hosting the vent but all groups would participate in some way as this always works best and keeps it a truly community led event. It will continue to be totally inclusive and free. The dates are as follows:

13th Feb

Speed friending - BYOSnacks and BYOB, tea and coffee provided by the wing.

13th March

International culture day (led by social committee)

Bring food and drink from your home country to share with neighbours (national dress optional) – aiming to sit down for a meal at 7pm.

If anyone has any cultural activities they can run this would be appreciated.
